Great accommodations, Ford's Colony (Blue Heron) very good, and Club at Viniterra very good. Colonial Heritage, pretty but too many blind shots. Enjoyed the course but not a fun course. Working with Virginia Golf, very easy to deal with and accommodating.

WILLIAMSBURG Golf Courses

Colonial Heritage Golf Club

Since 2013, the Arthur Hills designed Colonial Heritage Golf Club has been ranked among the region's best by Virginia Coastal Magazine. It's ultra smooth putting surfaces are a treat to play for all golfers especially masters of the "flatstick." After golf eat, drink and relax in Colonial Heritage's magnificent Clubhouse modeled after British architecture of the colonial era.

Kiskiack Golf Club

From the moment you arrive on the first tee, you'll begin to realize why Kiskiack is so unique. The course's beautiful surroundings will allow you to unwind, the spectacular views will inspire you, and the challenging layout will awaken your spirit. Set along the ridge of a natural bluff, Kiskiack offers a great day of golf for players of all skill levels.

The Golf Club at Viniterra

This Rees Jones design is generous off the tee but requires attention when playing approach shots; the greens are sloped and well bunkered. Errant iron shots will test the short game but ultra-smooth A-4 bent grass putting surfaces keep par saving putts online. Rolling terrain with moderate elevation changes, beautiful pine forests and several landmark oaks add additional character to this soon to be well known design!

WILLIAMSBURG Golf Courses

Fords Colony Blackheath

Fords Colony's most picturesque golf course, the Blackheath, is also Fords Colony's most challenging. Water hazards come into play on thirteen holes; several doglegs require attention from the tee and well bunkered greens. Blackheath's eighteenth is one of Williamsburg's most popular holes. A medium length par four with a narrow fairway bordered by a lake that encircles the green creating a scenic island green finish, the perfect setting for closing hole drama in a tight match!

Fords Colony Blue Heron

Fords Colony's Blue Heron course is set among dense Virginia wetlands, a unique setting for golf that is also home to a variety of wildlife. Marsh Hawks searching for prey provide plenty of inspiration throughout your round. The Blue Heron received new greens in 2013! The New Champion Bermuda putting surfaces are the only one of its kind in the Williamsburg area and a fantastic playing surface that you have to see for yourself.

Fords Colony Marsh Hawk

The Marsh Hawk course is Fords Colony's original course and a very interesting layout that annually hosted the PGA tour qualifier for the Michelob Championship as well as several Virginia State Opens. Booming drives are the norm with several elevated tee boxes played to fairways framed with Dan Maples signature bunkers. Undulated greens require accurate iron play and deft touch with the putter. Take advantage of unlimited play promotions through Virginia Golf Vacations at Fords Colony.

WILLIAMSBURG Golf Courses

Golden Horseshoe Gold Course

The Golden Horseshoe Gold Course's history is intertwined with the history of golf. The Gold course hosted 5 USGA championships and recently the 2007 NCAA Men's Golf Championship. Designed by Robert Trent Jones, touted by some as the best course designer of all time. Jones called it his finest design and the Gold course has the awards to prove it. The Golden Horseshoe Gold Course is adding another chapter to it's rich history. In 2016 renovations began, adding newer turf-grasses to greens and fairways insuring premium playing conditions. Re-opening is scheduled for late summer 2017.

Golden Horseshoe Green Course

Opening in 1991, the Green course was designed by Rees Jones, son of Gold Course architect Robert Trent Jones Sr. In 1992 Golf Digest selected the Green course as one of it's five best new resort courses. It is situated on 105 acres of mature woodlands and natural terrain. You are allowed to enjoy nature without the distractions of condos or cul-de-sacs. Although a style all its own the green course still captures the same elegance of its sister Gold course. Play them both on your next golf trip and receive additional discounts for playing a Golden Horseshoe combo golf vacation. After golf, enjoy drinks & food on the clubhouse terrace hole.

Kingsmill River Course

Along the banks of the historic James River is where you'll find Kingsmill Resort, Virginia's largest golf resort and the famous River Course. For more than thirty years, the fairways and greens of this Pete Dye masterpiece have challenged a who's who of PGA and LPGA champions past and present. The River course hosted a PGA tour event for 22 years and is currently home to the LPGA's Kingsmill Championship. To play the Kingsmill courses golfers are now required to stay in one of their well-appointed guestrooms or spacious condos.

Kingsmill Plantation Course

The Plantation Course is an Arnold Palmer and Ed Seay design. Successful navigation of this 6,432-yard, par-72 layout requires accurate iron play and good putting. Fairways are generous, but severely undulated greens make getting down in two a satisfying accomplishment.

WILLIAMSBURG Golf Courses

Traditions at Brickshire

Williamsburg National Yorktown Course

In 2013, the Yorktown course was ranked in Golf Digest's top 50 courses for Women.

Williamsburg National Jamestown Course

Designed by the Nicklaus Design group this 4-star GOLF DIGEST winner has served as proud host to
